RE: Acceptance of Automatic Aid and Ancillary Service Agreement #3

RECOMMENDATION

It is being recommended that the Village Council approve the attached Resolution and Automatic Aid and Ancillary Service Agreement between the City of Miami and the Village of Key Biscayne covering the period of April 1, 2004 and terminating on March 31, 2009.

BACKGROUND

In early July of 2003, the Public Safety Director and the Deputy Director of Fire Rescue began negotiating with the City of Miami Fire Department Fire Chief and Deputy Fire Chief on the third (3rd) Agreement between the City and Village for Automatic Aid and Ancillary Services.

The initial draft contained a small number of operational changes and a proposal to increase the annual fee for services at a rate of five percent (5%) each year for the duration of the Agreement. These terms would have cost the Village an amount of $483,000 for the first (1st) year and culminated with an amount of $587,088 for year five (5). Monthly costs to the Village would have increased from $38,333 to $40,250 for the first (1st) year and culminated with an amount of $48,924 for year five (5).

The recommended Agreement, which was approved by the City of Miami Commission by Resolution No. 04-0132 on March 12, 2004, establishes a five (5) year fixed annual cost of $479,160 (up from $460,000) and a monthly fee of $39,930 (up from $38,333). The total cost increase of Agreement #3 over Agreement #2 is four point one percent (4.1%) fixed for the term of the Agreement.

Regarding operational changes between Agreement #2 and Agreement #3, the following two (2) are the most significant:

1. Automatic move-up is more clearly delineated in Agreement #3. The two (2) bullets found mid-way down on page four (4) of the Agreement state the practice that has been "informally" in place since mid-year 2001. Automatic dispatch of units to augment Key Biscayne Fire Rescue Department resources remain as they have since the inception of the Department in 1993.
2. The costs for training and non-emergency activities will now be borne by the Village. On page five (5) Section D. of the Agreement and page six (6) Section J. of the Agreement will be found clear delineation of what the City of Miami will no longer cover with their in-service units.

The staff of the Village Fire Rescue Department has already found alternatives to their training needs. In addition, the difference between the annual cost of the Agreement - $479,000 and the Fire Rescue Department line item for Automatic Aid - $500,000 – is the $21,000 that will be identified as a line item for "Back Fill-Training" in subsequent Departmental budget proposals. These monies will fund the off-duty overtime staffing of the emergency vehicles when on-duty training is the only option available.

The remaining changes were clean-up and clarification issues having no cost and not affecting the delivery system.
